

Biography

Ms. Juliette Alemany, Manager at Fair Agora

Previously working at the French Research Institute for Exploitation of the Sea where she completed her PhD in data science and fisheries, Juliette contributed to several scientific surveys and projects in close cooperation with fishermen. She was involved in three European working groups to design new stock assessment models and review the general methodology to be followed by the European Union in case of data-limited fish stock.

She is now working at VerifiK8 as data scientist and project manager, focusing mainly on improving social and environmental farming practices in shrimp aquaculture in South East Asia.
